Give Them an 'A' for Effort For UNICEF

NEWS in BRIEF

Some Groups Of Youngsters Made Trouble

Palm Springs area, small fry (and some not so small) collected nearly $500 — the equivalent of 250,000 glasses of milk — in the "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" program Tuesday evening.

The Halloweeners covered the Village with special collection carts and the donations they obtained were counted and totaled by a crew of volunteers headed by Herb Samson at Security First National Bank.

And while the volunteers were counting, Dr. Alonzo Baker, of Pacific University, was praising the work of UNICEF (United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) in Africa and other areas before a Desert Dinner Club meeting at Eldorado Country Club.

Mrs. Ruth Marx, chairman of the trick or treat program, praised the efforts of participating youngsters and the adults who helped to complete it.

Leaders included Mrs. Vahan Alchian, Cahulla PTA president; Charles Cress, Katherine Finch PTA president; Mrs. Stella Richie, Desert Hot Springs PTA president; Jim Milliron, junior high school principal; Mrs. Warren Slaughter and Mrs. Jack Riordan, St. Theresa School; Mrs. James Arnold, Cathedral City; Mrs. Dan Wagner, Palm Springs High School PTA president and the high school's Interfaith Youth Group.

Crash Kills 48 Passengers

RECIFE, Brazil (UPI) — A Panair Do Brasil DC7C airliner crashed into a hillside and burst into flames while coming in for a landing here today, killing 48 of the 85 persons aboard.

An airline official said seven of the 37 survivors were hospitalized in serious condition. The four-engine airliner was carrying nine crew members and 76 passengers from Lisbon, Portugal, to Rio De Janeiro on a low-fare friendship flight.

One report carried by the Brazilian Meridional news agency said two explosions ripped the plane before it struck the hillside.

'Unique' Palm Springs Theatre Under Planning

Mervyn Le Roy, pioneer motion picture producer and director and long-time Palm Springs resident, has purchased 2.5 acres of land on North Palm Canyon Drive for construction of a new motion picture theater. The purchase price was nearly $200,000.

He announced that he was constructing "one of the most modern and unique motion picture and television theaters in America," but did not explain how the "television" part of the theater would work.

Le Roy did explain that the facility had nothing to do with the production of television shows, but would rather bring to Palm Springs residents and guests major films and sporting events.

The parcel of land, located across from the Riviera Hotel, has a 243-foot frontage on Palm Canyon Drive, is 530 feet deep through to Indian Avenue, and has a 210-foot frontage on Indian.

The purchase of the land for Le Roy was handled by Palm Springs realtor Ken Herman and Burnham Bigelow represented the seller.

Plans for the new facility are already on the drawing board, and the building is scheduled for completion within six months.

Palm Springs now has three motion picture theaters in the city limits, a drive-in theater at Tramview and another drive-in under construction on Ramon Road at the east city limits.

Pressure To Begin New Tests

Senate Leaders Want Atmosphere Neutron Work

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration came under new Senate pressure today to resume nuclear tests in the atmosphere in an effort to develop a neutron bomb which could kill humans without destroying property.

The proposal was advanced Tuesday by Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee and endorsed today by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., senior Democratic senator on the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee, also urged a resumption of atmospheric tests to proof-test new weapons. He did not specifically mention the neutron bomb, however.

Dodd said in a statement that "The neutron bomb would not only be a far more effective battlefield weapon than any now available to us; it would provide us with the most effective antimissile warhead nuclear technology is today capable of producing."

Referring to Russia's new test series, Dodd said "we are in a race for survival. We do not need any 30-megaton terror explosions. But we must run as hard and as fast as we can."

Anderson in a statement released by his office here, made no mention of the neutron bomb. But he said "complete weapons systems and proof tests or large-scale weapons cannot be tested underground." He said important data on antimissile defenses could be obtained only through atmospheric tests.

"In a rationally conducted test program, the annual amount of fission products distributed worldwide could be limited to only a fraction of the amounts the Soviets have distributed in the past two months," Anderson said.

Indian Avenue Striping Set For Change

The controversial yellow striping on Indian Avenue from Ramon Road to Alejo Road will get a new look beginning today. City Manager Dan Wagner announced.

Under the new plan, two lanes of traffic will be provided both north and south, with left- and right-turn lanes provided at the Tahquitz-McCallum and Ramon Road intersections.

Phil Abrams, city engineering consultant, said the turn lanes at Tahquitz-McCallum will be 150 feet long, and the lanes at Ramon Road approximately 75 feet long. "On a 64-foot wide street, we cannot maintain four lanes of traffic, parking, and turn lanes in the same area," Abrams explained.

The striping plan was evolved in a meeting Tuesday between Abrams, Municipal Judge Eugene Theriault, Robert Hill, president of the Palm Springs Safety Council; Wagner; Police Chief A. G. Kettmann; acting Public Works Director Harold Stone; Police Lt. Dale Thompson; and city traffic engineer A. G. Woods. Abrams had worked earlier with Richard K. Bowler, traffic engineer for the Southern California Automobile Club, who recommended the adoption of plan after study of plans and field investigation.

The present striping plan, with left-turn lanes and bays, has drawn heavy criticism from local motorists and merchants because of variations in the traffic lane widths.

$25,000 Jewels Missing -- Here?

A Detroit woman is missing $25,000 in jewelry here, but it may have been taken from her luggage or lost in Beverly Hills before coming here for a desert vacation. Police Chief A. G. Kettmann reported late Tuesday.

Mrs. Edwin J. Anderson, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., wife of the business manager of the Detroit Lions pro football club, told police at 7 p.m. Tuesday that her jewelry was missing from luggage when she unpacked. Mrs. Anderson explained that she hadn't looked for the jewels during a stay in Beverly Hills, and had unpacked here Tuesday after arrival at the Racquet Club Monday.

Detective Herbert Shalies, working on the case with detective Larry Carter, said today there is no indication of forcible entry at the Racquet Club cottage occupied by the Andersons.

City Clerk in Supervisor Race

Another entry in the race for the supervisorial seat to be vacated in 1962 by George Berkeley was revealed today in the announcement in Indio by William T. Freeman, city clerk of Indio, that he will be a candidate for the post.

"I am convinced that I can be of maximum value to the people of the Fourth Supervisorial District," Freeman told a press conference at Indio City Hall.

Included in the missing jewelry are a 72-carat star sapphire necklace, valued at $10,000; a diamond-studded watch, valued at $5,000; and a diamond choker, valued at $5,000. The insurance company covering the jewels will have to supply the list of the other assorted jewelry pieces, detective Shalies said today.

Commission in Location Talk

The Palm Springs Airport Commission discussed location of a proposed terminal complex and further action to obtain a control tower here, during the 8:30 a.m. meeting today, member Edward Dillon reported.

Dillon explained that the commission will seek to determine the best location for the proposed new terminal, and will go into architectural discussions "in a few months."

The commission planned meetings with representatives of Western Airlines and later with Bonanza to ask aid in contacting the Federal Aviation Authority to request installation of the tower here at the earliest feasible time, Dillon said. He explained that an informal FAA bulletin received here yesterday indicated the agency may assume full costs of new control tower installations.

HURRICANE HATTIE SMASHES BRITISH HONDURAS SEAPORT

MERIDA, Mexico (UPI) — A rescue plane flying into Belize, British Honduras, radioed just before landing today that the seaport appeared from the air to be "50 to 75 per cent destroyed" by hurricane Hattie.

The tropical storm smashed Tuesday into the sleepy little town of 31,000 on the Gulf of Mexico just below the Mexican border.

The extent of casualties was not known. Only two persons were reported dead in the first fragmentary reports by ham radio communications.

A TAN British Honduras Airline C46 preparing to land at Belize this morning sent the first direct eyewitness report. The pilot said the airport runways appeared normal but that he had not been able to contact the airport tower by radio.

The British Admiralty in London said the situation at Belize was "still confused." It reported that almost all army buildings in the port had been demolished.

Frigate Carries Supplies
A British frigate was headed for the disaster area with food, tents, tools, building materials and cooking equipment, the admiralty said. There is a top priority need for medical assistance, it added.

The town had been rebuilt after almost total devastation in a hurricane in 1931. It appeared Hattie had dealt it an equally savage blow.

The C46 which arrived today was piloted by Capt. Dean Ricker, Miami. The plane carried 4,800 pounds of food, clothing and medicine from Red Cross and individual donations in response to an appeal by Miami Mayor Robert King.

Mayor Says Brown in Job Offer

Governor Claims Fact in Case Was Badly Bent

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — San Francisco Mayor George Christopher and Gov. Edmund G. Brown swapped accusations Tuesday about an alleged offer of a foreign service post to Christopher.

Christopher said Brown had offered him a top government job—possibly ambassador to Greece—if he stayed out of California's 1962 gubernatorial campaign.

Brown said there was "no truth" in the report whatever. Christopher, considered a leading Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, said the offer was made Oct. 7 while the two were flying together in a helicopter to a religious rally in San Francisco.

"The suggestion was made by the governor that I, as a service to my country, consider a government post, presumably in the foreign service and remain out of the 1962 campaign," Christopher said.

The mayor added that it had been indicated to him that the matter of the appointment had been discussed by Brown either directly or indirectly with President Kennedy.

Governor's Story
Brown said there was one fact in the foreign service story, but "it has been bent so completely out of shape that it is no longer good for anything but a laugh."

The governor said Christopher "approached me at a social gathering several weeks ago and said he was tired of the rigors of elective office."

"He said he saw himself as a likely candidate for the foreign service," Brown reported. "I did not think any further about it."

But Brown claims Christopher discussed the subject again at a San Francisco reception Sept. 14. "He said he was still interested in an overseas post," Brown said. "I asked him what he had in mind and he said, 'Perhaps some place in Russia.' I said, 'What about Siberia?' and he did not press it."

Didn't Take It Seriously
"I did not take it seriously," the governor said. "I did not mention it to anyone and I did not think of it again until I read the story."

Roger Kent, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, launched a bitter counter-attack against Christopher.

Kent suggested that the French foreign legion might be open to Christopher as a "refuge from Nixon's promises."

Nightmare of Horror From Holiday Parade

ANOKA, Minn. (UPI) — A gay Halloween parade of costumed school children turned into a nightmare of horror late Tuesday when a runaway car with a dead man at the wheel roared through the rear of the marchers and plowed into spectators.

Children, many of them masked and wearing spook and goblin costumes, were tossed into the air. Older adults and youths were knocked down "like a bunch of tenpins."

Two elderly women were killed. Twenty-three others, including 18 children, were injured.

Ironically, a town fire engine scheduled to follow the marchers and protect them from traffic was called out on a run as the parade started.

Three Injured Critically

Police identified the dead as Otto Erickson, 76, driver of the 13-year-old car which caused the tragedy. Mrs. Harry Laird, 60, Coon Rapids, Minn., and Mrs. Georgia Dowdell, 79, Anoka, Erickson was dead of an apparent heart attack seconds before the accident. Mrs. Dowdell died a short time later in a hospital.

Two children and an adult were in critical condition.

The accident was all the more tragic in that the annual pageant in this self-proclaimed "Halloween capital of the world" was set up in 1920 to turn youngsters away from the usual holiday pranks and give them a safe, enjoyable Halloween.

The 22nd annual pageant started as usual Tuesday with 3,000 children dressed in weird costumes parading gaily along main street in this Minneapolis suburb.

Foot Jams Accelerator

Erickson was behind the marchers in his ancient car. Suddenly, he slumped over the steering wheel and his foot jammed on the accelerator.

The car roared through a red light, ran into youngsters marching at the rear of the parade, jumped a divider strip in the middle of Main Street, hit a parked car, shot across an intersection, sheared off a light pole and two parking meters and ran into more persons. It hit another auto and stopped in front of a mortuary. The car door swung open and Erickson's body fell out into the street.

Auto Crash Injures Two

MORONGO — Two young women were injured when the car in which they were passengers overturned at 3 p.m. Tuesday on the Twenty-nine Palms Highway 2.5 miles south of the San Bernardino county line near here, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Admitted to Desert Hospital for observation was Ruth Chormichle, 35, 2384 Livmore, Palm Springs. Linda Fisher, 21, of Ravenna, Ohio, was given emergency treatment and released.

Driver of the car was Edward Buell, a Marine stationed at Twenty-nine Palms. Buell had attempted to pass a car, hit a rough shoulder and lost control of his vehicle, which plunged off the road and overturned, the CHP said.

Hearing Only 15 Seconds

The city council held a 15-second public hearing Monday evening on proposed annexation of 7.5 acres of land in section 34, north of Palm Springs, for an apartment development site.

No one spoke for or against the issue, and the matter was approved and set for final vote to the November 27 council meeting. Certification by state officials will then complete the quick growth.

Leonard H. Wolf and Herman C. Neuman have announced plans to place a $2.5 million housing project on the site, for an estimated 150-200 families.

Alice Hawkins Dies from Crash Injuries

Alice K. Hawkins of 67-898 Arden Drive, Cathedral City, succumbed Sunday at Parkview Hospital, Riverside, as result of injuries received in an automobile accident.

A native of Gloversville, N. Y., she had been a resident of Cathedral City for four months.

She is survived by her husband, Robert Hawkins, and a son, Mark, both of Cathedral City.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 1 p.m. from the Wiefels and Son chapel with the Rev. James W. Arnold of Cathedral City Community Church officiating. Interment will be in Desert Memorial Park.

Car Club Asks Hotel Group Intercession

The Sports Car Club of America appealed Tuesday to the executive committee of the Palm Springs Hotel and Apartment Association to intercede for road races on the Palm Springs Airport Jan. 20-21. Sherman Dickinson, HOTAPA president, announced.

Dickinson said the appeal will be referred to the association's board of directors. If the full board approves the request, the matter will be discussed with the Palm Springs Airport Commission, which had disallowed the races this year.

Harrison Russell, operator of the Desert Stage Lines, Desert Hot Springs, presented a plan for a series of one-day tours to the executive committee. Proposed were tours to the Salton Sea, Idyllwild, Joshua Tree and other nearby interest points. Fishing expeditions also might be arranged, Harrison's representatives said. The matter will go before the HOTAPA board Nov. 14.

The committee approved an appropriation of $200 for advertising in support of the Palm Springs Translator Television service. Subsequent donations may be made through individuals, Dickinson said.

In other action, the committee endorsed the project of the Palm Springs Retail Merchants Association's asking of wearing of western clothing by business people on Saturdays.

THREE CHARGES ON THREE

Young Thieves Tracked Down

INDIO — Three 14-year-old boys from the Outpost Estates area east of Palm Springs were apprehended at approximately 11 p.m. Tuesday on Wonder Palms Road after they had been tracked by a caretaker for the Thunderbird Country Club, and located by sheriff's deputies, sheriff's Capt. L. E. (Bud) Brooks said today.

The boys are held on suspicion of burglary, grand theft, and malicious mischief, on petition of the county probation department.

The boys all reportedly students in Palm Springs High School, were tracked by caretaker Robert Arnold Donaghe, who stopped deputy W. H. Ketchum on Wonder Palms Road. Arnold and Donaghe, backed by other deputies, were searching the area, when two of the youths stepped from hiding and surrendered. A third youth, who had abandoned an electric golf cart on the road and fled on foot into the adjacent desert, was located in the desert area.

Investigation revealed that the three had taken a total of nine electric carts, culminating in a malicious "joy ride" in three stolen carts between 8 and 11 p.m. Tuesday.

The fourth green had been trampled by electric carts, and two sprinkler heads broken off, flooding the greens and fairways. Deep ruts were dug into the turf with the carts. Other damage was reportedly done to nearby Blue Skies Trailer Village.

Deputies reported that a cart was taken from Hoagy Carmichael, two carts and golf clubs from Jane Hinkle, and a cart and clubs from Louis Edward Manseau. One other cart owner has not been identified.

Halliday Rites Set in Hollywood

Funeral services for Fred Davis Halliday, who died Saturday following a sudden illness, will be held Saturday, Nov. 4, at 3 p.m. from the Hollywood Cemetery Chapel with the Rev. Dr. Ernest Wilson, pastor of Christ Church Unity, officiating. Entombment will be in Hollywood Mausoleum.

Halliday, who was 73 at the time of his death, had been a prominent Palm Springs resident for 20 years and a noted wild life conservation advocate.

A native of Cairo, Ill., he came to California in 1916 and to Palm Springs in 1941.

Wiefels and Son Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

Opposes Increases

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Chamber of Commerce said Sunday it opposed general tariff increases designed to curtail "a relatively small flow of goods from abroad."

Chamber spokesmen said the business organization would support steps to reduce barriers to mutually beneficial foreign trade when Congress studies renewal of the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act next year.

A Matter of Mind

By Dr. Arthur Janov

Dr. Janov, Palm Springs psychologist, today begins a three part series. The first deals with the psychiatric team, the second with psychological tests and what they can do. The third deals with the nature of psychotherapy. — The Editor.

In the United States today there are three members comprising the psychiatric team — the psychiatrist, the psychologist and the psychiatric social worker. Each has his specific function in helping the patient with emotional problems. In most mental hospitals and psychiatric clinics the team can be found working together.

The psychiatrist is a university graduate and a graduate of a medical school, after which he enters into a three to five-year period of advanced training known as a residency in psychiatry. This may be taken at a mental hospital, psychiatric clinic or both.

The psychiatrist has medical responsibility for the patient when the team functions together. It is he who prescribes drugs, administers shock therapy when indicated, makes commitments to hospitals and advises on all medical aspects of the case.

Work Levels Vary

The psychologist is a university graduate and a graduate of a school of psychology, a training period that includes in four to six years of postgraduate study training in psychological testing, research and psychotherapy. While his advanced study includes courses in medicine and neurology he is not a medical doctor. His doctorate is the "Ph.D." — doctor of philosophy in psychology. This is an academic degree. His function on the team initially is the administration of psychological tests. He evaluates the person's intelligence, his emotionally stability, factors operating below the person's consciousness and, where indicated, tests for the possibility of brain damage.

The psychiatric social worker is a university graduate and a graduate of a school of social work (2 years post-graduate) in the psychiatric specialty. His degree is the M.S.W. — "Masters Degree in Social Work." His responsibility on the team is to do the initial interviewing and screening, to be familiar with the patient's home and job situation and to handle all necessary contacts in the person's environment.

After a patient has been seen by all three members of the team and evaluated by each psychiatric specialist, a staff conference is held to discuss the patient fully from each viewpoint. The disposition is then made.

If psychotherapy is indicated any member of the team may be qualified to do so. Exceptions to this rule are with patients who are potentially homicidal or suicidal or where serious medical and neurological problems exist. The latter cases are the province of the psychiatrist because of his medical knowledge and legal responsibility.

During his training each member of the psychiatric team has extensive supervised training in psychotherapy varying from two to five years. This training involves field work at a clinic or hospital working with patients under the guidance of an experienced person. Often the therapist has undergone psychotherapy himself over an extended period of time. In most cases however, this personal psychotherapy is not mandatory.

All three members of the team are highly trained and skilled people. Their training has included at least six to fifteen years of work. Unfortunately, the public image of these specialists has not kept up with the times.

And so we find that the social worker is still thought of as someone who gives out charity and the psychologist as one who gives intelligence tests.

To protect the public the State of California has recently passed an act certifying psychologists. This will mean the eventual elimination of quacks from the field. A certified psychologist now is one who has the Ph.D. or its equivalent, has three years of experience and who has passed an examination equivalent to a State Board as given by the psychology examining committee of the State Board of Medical Examiners. The social workers also have done the same so that soon a qualified social worker will be one who is a member of the Academy of Social Work.

Members of the psychiatric team are often found in a private practice setting where their functions can often become confused. Only the psychiatrist, however, retains medical responsibility for the patient. Any member of the team can be equally qualified to do psychotherapy.

Just as a medical doctor goes on to specialize in one aspect of medicine, pediatrics, surgery or psychiatry; so do the psychologist and social worker have their specialties. The psychologist can specialize in research, industrial or clinical psychology, while the social worker can specialize in group work, medical social work or psychiatric social work.

Sometimes a psychiatrist who wishes still more advance training can enter an institute for psychoanalysis. This training (usually at night after working hours) lasts at least three years and the graduate is known as a psychoanalyst. This is a very specialized training usually only in Freudian psychology. A psychiatrist who would not adhere to the Freudian or neo-Freudian viewpoint would not be likely to become a psychoanalyst.

31 MERIT BADGES were awarded to six Boy Scouts in a Court of Honor conducted at Cañuilla School. The recipients are, from left, Jim Shepard, Denver Mills, Brian McMichaels, Bob Ashbaugh, Craig Hendrix and Steve Reed. Young Hendrix was tops of the group with a total of 15 merit badges. 50 Megaton Bomb Burst With Brilliance of 10,000 Suns

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The object roared through the clouds that hang like ever-present ghosts over the bleak stretches of ice.

It roared so high that through the soggy patches of cloud the ice-capped peaks to the north and the chilling wispy fog that shrouds the glacier could be seen.

Miles away eyes may have strained to catch a glimpse of the hurtling object—the tense eyes of men and the furious eyes of polar bears.

But there were probably no eyes aboard the object, no eyes to look out and see the mountains and the ice and the cold blue sea.

If there were, it was the last thing they ever saw, because the object suddenly became the center of one of the most awesome explosions the earth has ever seen, a blast like a bursting star.

Inferno of Heat

It turned the frozen waste into an inferno of heat the like of which man had never before seen. If there was anything but ice for 45 miles around, it would have burned like a match.

It was a blinding light, as bright as 10,000 suns. It was comparable to the greatest natural eruptions man has ever recorded.

But it came as no surprise to the men who watched it. It was their doing. It was, presumably, the grand finale Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev promised for Russia's nuclear test series.

It was a nuclear explosion equal to 50 million tons of TNT, the mightiest upheaval man has ever caused.

Its shock waves roared around the world, telling scientists watching sensitive instruments of what had happened.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission said preliminary indications were that it was a 50-megaton bomb, and it was exploded about 12,000 feet above the icy wasteland of Novaya Zemlya in the arctic.

Its monstrous blast set off a backlash of demands that the United States begin testing its own bombs in the air.

Nixon Urges Testing

Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 Republican candidate for President, urged that the United States take its nuclear testing out from underground.

"We should not wait and take a Gallup poll of all neutral nations around the world," he said. This country must test in the atmosphere to protect itself, Nixon said in a speech in Syracuse, N.Y.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Weapons, said "we'll have to" test in the atmosphere.

"There can be no question that the Soviets are improving the sophistication of their warheads to the point that in the long lead we may be in jeopardy," he said.

This country, he added, would not need a lot of atmospheric explosions, "and they would be of low yield."

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission has said that it will be up to President Kennedy to decide what this nation will do.

Kennedy may be waiting for a study of world opinion, and an analysis of the Soviet series and an evaluation of what they may have accomplished.

World opinion, even before Monday's tremendous explosion, was almost uniformly opposed, according to the U.S. Information Agency (USIA).

Columnist Drew Pearson Slated in Palm Springs

Top Washington newsmen Drew Pearson, will open the Community Forum Series sponsored by the Jewish Community Center on Tuesday, Nov. 21, at the Palm Springs High School Auditorium.

Constantly going abroad to the "hot spots" of the world to gather information, at the same time, Pearson and his staff continue a relentless search for news at home. Frequently a controversial figure, he has criticized and fought government officials, members of Congress, important business leaders, whenever he felt they were not acting in the public interest.

Pearson has been credited with the kind of journalistic vigilance that keeps small men honest, and forces bigger men to work in an atmosphere of caution that frequently cramps their style." The Saturday Review of Literature poll selected Pearson as the columnist whose writings exert the greatest influence on the nation.

Despite the seeming ruthlessness, Pearson is said to be quiet, almost retiring personally, and one who shows strong traces of a Quaker background.

Born in Evanston, Ill., in 1897, he spent his boyhood in Swarthmore, Pa., where his father was Professor of Speech at Swarthmore College. Pearson's education included Phillips Exeter Academy and four years at Swarthmore College where he achieved Phi Beta Kappa, edited the college newspaper and ended up in an officers' training corps at the close of World War I.

In 1919 Pearson went overseas with the American Friends Service Committee to supervise the relief program in devastated Balkan villages. A series of jobs as foreign correspondent, and editor of the "United States Daily" during which time he saw history in the making at the Geneva Conference, lead to being stationed in the nation's capitol as a Washington Bureau writer.

In the lean years of the Hoover Administration, an anonymous book, "Washington Merry-Go-Round" created a tremendous stir with the information it revealed. When the authors of the book were revealed to be Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen, Allen was dismissed by the Christian Science Monitor and Pearson lost his job with the Baltimore Sun. However, through this Pearson-Allen partnership, a new era in journalism was born. The two men teamed up to write the daily "Washington Merry-Go-Round" column, which has been whirling in the nation's newspapers since 1932. In recent years, Pearson has been sole author of the column.

Pearson has been co-author of five books, has done considerable film work and is frequently seen on television.

When he appears in Palm Springs on Nov. 21, his subject will be "Washington Merry-Go-Round," but exactly what he will talk about will depend upon that day's headlines.

Attorney Giesler Ill

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Attorney Jerry Giesler, whose clients included Lana Turner and the late Errol Flynn, was "seriously ill" today from a recurrent heart ailment, according to attendants in Mount Sinai Hospital.

Attendants said Giesler has been a patient for a week. His physician, Dr. Jack A. Sheinkopf, told newsmen Giesler's illness was "serious."

Giesler, 74, was hospitalized in 1959-60 after a series of heart attacks.

STANLEY KONCZYNIN

New Bank Manager in Palm Desert

Appointment of Stanley Konczynin to manager of Bank of America's Palm Desert branch has been announced by Jesse W. Tapp, chairman of the board of directors.

Konczynin, who previously was assistant manager of an El Cajon branch, succeeds J. Phil Franklin, who has left the bank.

Beginning his banking career in 1946 as a teller in the San Francisco area, he received his first officer assignment in 1954.

Born in New York, Konczynin graduated from high school there and holds two certificates from the American Institute of Banking, educational wing of the American Bankers Association.

In El Cajon, he was a member of the chamber of commerce, the Elks Lodge, and the Exchange Club.

He spent four years in the Navy during World War II in the Pacific theater and two years during the Korean conflict.

"While vacationing here two years ago, I told my wife that I would enjoy working here," Konczynin recalls. "It was a very pleasant surprise when I heard that I will now manage this attractive branch."

His wife, Virginia, is also employed by Bank of America.

Higher Income Indicates Hike In Farm Lands

By BERNARD BRENNER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — This year's increase in net farm income has put new strength into the price of farm land.

Agriculture Department officials have reported that farm real estate values rose one per cent in the four months ending July first. This was a slightly higher gain than the department reported for the same period last year.

The improvement was most noticeable in the Corn Belt where land values began to turn down last fall.

The officials added that not all of the loss in Corn Belt land value was recovered in the early part of this year. And for the nation as a whole, the gain in land values was only about half the rate which was common until 1959.

The department said land values were strengthened last Spring by increased support prices for feed grains and by advance payments for compliance with the 1961 feed grain program.

The strong recovery in the non-farm economy during Spring and early Summer also helped add confidence to the farmland market. Some prospective buyers who stayed out of the land market apparently moved back in this year.

As of last July 1, the department estimated the total market value of farm land and buildings at $138.4 billion, another all-time record.

This figure was up 2 per cent from a year earlier.

The American Farm Bureau Federation apparently is preparing for a strong fight against the Kennedy Administration's medical care for the aged program next year.

Farm Bureau officials are attacking the administration plan in speeches and articles. And they have invited Dr. Leonard Larson, president of the American Medical Association, to address their convention at Chicago in December.

L. M. BURNS of Canada addresses the U. N. General Assembly. The former commander of the U. N. Emergency Force in the Middle East said there "is not one of us who is not dismayed by the fact that the Soviet Union this morning set off another and most awesome explosion. (UPI Telephoto)

DESERT HOT SPRINGS

CHARLES WILLETS CELEBRATE 50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Willet will celebrate at a reception and dinner to be given in their honor by their sons, Charles and Clifford Willets on Sunday, at 1901 Linwood Drive, Manhattan Beach.

Following their marriage in Pasadena, Nov. 7, 1911, the couple lived in the Los Angeles area where Mr. Willets was employed as a meat buyer for Safeway Inc. Upon his retirement in 1950, they moved to Desert Hot Springs and purchased the Willets Motel.

The Willets' only grandchild, Cindy Lou Willets of Manhattan Beach is well known to local residents as she spent many years here with her grandparents while recovering from a respiratory condition.

First time visitors to Desert Hot Springs, Rabbi and Mrs. Isaiah Zeldin of Temple Emanuel, Beverly Hills, spent the weekend at the Bertram's Ma-Ha-Yah Lodge.

Thirty local residents hosted a surprise dinner party for Harry and Dixie Crandall who are moving to Palm Springs shortly. The couple, who have been active in the civic affairs of the community during the five years here, were presented with an electric skillet. On hand to extend their best wishes were Russ and Peggy Johnson of South Gate, former residents of our town.

It was a double birthday time Sunday at the Walter Klocke home and their daughter and son-in-law, the Steve Tablemans of Los Angeles and grandchildren, Judy and Steve, were present to help them celebrate. The Klockes he's vice president of the Desert Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce and she heads the local Women's Club — have birthdays just one day apart.

From Newell, W. Va., comes word that the William De Long who had to postpone their return home because of illness, expect to head West shortly. They have been on vacation since August.

Home again are Shirley and Reuben Lichtig, who vacationed for three months with family and friends in Milwaukee, Detroit, Chicago and New York City.

Miss M. Alta Campbell, a former resident here, spent the weekend as the guest of the Frank Maddocks. After spending several months in the coastal area, Miss Campbell has rented a home in Banning and will establish residence there.

Weekend visitors at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Archie Matson included a number of friends from Whittier. Among them, Mrs. Zelpha Hill, the A. J. Millers and their three children, and the William Blaisies who are building a vacation home in Yucca.

Mrs. Maizie Tegner of Hollywood and three companions — Mesdames Cecelia Henry and Dora Bruyere and Miss Louise Franchetto of Redondo Beach — vacationed at the Little Admiral Inn this past week. The four ladies are friends of the Ted J. Nettekoven and were entertained by them during their stay here.

Over the weekend the Nettekoven played host to their daughter and son-in-law, the Irwin V. Waites, who motored up with their four sons from Redondo Beach. On hand to greet them were the Roy Eilers of Palm Springs, long time friends of the family.

The David Larsens have just received word that their son, Lt. Laurence H. Larsen has been assigned to the new submarine Plunger, which is based at Mare Island.

The Eugene Wrights and sons Robert and Morgan of Yuma were the house guests of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stone Wright Jr., last week. Wright was formerly in business here.

Seventy trailers and their friends enjoyed a pancake breakfast at the Desert Hot Springs Trailer Park Sunday. Perry Childs and Clarence Brawley, organizers of the affair, doubled as chefs, and Howard Lafferty presided over the coffee urn. Background organ music was provided by Florence Childs.

Mrs. Ben Horton of Pico Rivera has ended a stay here at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, the Al Hortons.

Friends are welcoming back the Robert Garvins, who planed in Saturday from what they called a "perfect" four-month vacation spent with family and friends in Harrisburg and Philadelphia.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Carmel of Westwood — she's the daughter of the N. A. Bertrams — hosted a swim party followed by a mid-night supper at the Ma-Ha-Yah-Lanai. Guests included Dr. and Mrs. Harry Bowman of Malibu; the Warren Kornolds of Santa Monica; Jerry Bertram of Beverly Hills; the Matt Richmonds and Mrs. Natalie Rodin of Los Angeles; Lynn Carmel of Inglewood and the N. A. Bertrams.

Television in Review

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI) — David Susskind detonated his super-blockbuster, "The Power and the Glory," Sunday night and its fall-out should flock the TV wasteland with fond memories for some time to come.

The two-hour CBS-TV special, with Laurence Olivier, an all-star cast and a $550,000 budget, was billed as the season's biggest dramatic splash. Since Marilyn Monroe's "Rain" has been called off, who can deny that billing?

Although Olivier's glowing performance made it a memorable event, the production had too many flaws to be rated as a complete triumph. The message for one thing, was boot. Shades of meaning weren't nourished by the script.

Graham Greene's novel is a Biblical allegory which inspires by reaffirming, in intricate, paradoxical terms, the final triumph of man's goodness and spiritual powers over materialistic forces that would deny those qualities. Greene's setting was the Mexico of 30 years ago, after a socialist revolution led to one decree which declared all priests to be traitors, to be hunted and, when captured, executed.

The protagonist was the last surviving priest. A moral scoundrel, the priest nevertheless clung to the symbolical nature of his presence and continued to serve the frightened but still-devout peasants. He recognized that he alone, despite his sins, could "put God in a man's mouth." He was betrayed and, as a new priest arrived on the scene, executed. The novel gave us, along with its stimulating paradoxes, a soaring victory.

Dale Wasserman, who adapted the novel for this TV-motion picture production, devised an ending in which political overtones became dominant. The delicate spiritual synthesis that enveloped Greene's eternal life rhythms was wrecked. As a result, our focus on the final vision was taken from Olivier, the priest, and given, much debased, to his executioner, portrayed most impressively by George C. Scott.

Dunnock, Rose Gregorio, Thomas Gomez, Frank Conroy and about a dozen others. Only Martin Gabel, as the police chief, seemed to have trouble submerging himself in his role.

Director Marc Daniels produced some excellent scenes with his studio-anchored cameras, but some of his intimate compositions were wildly frustrating in their aloofness. The production, which spread 40 sets over more than eight acres of studio space in New York, was designed by Burr Smidt. His scenery was a remarkable achievement, although I found the indoor scaling of villages and mountains to be distracting at times.

The original music, composed and conducted by Lawrence Rosenthal, was another notable contribution to this drama.

Plane Hijacker Gets Life Term

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Leon Bearden, 38, was sentenced to life plus 25 years in federal prison today for hijacking a Continental Airlines jet liner Aug. 8.

Bearden received near maximum punishment for violating three federal laws in the hijacking. His son, Cody, 16, who pleaded guilty to similar charges, was sentenced to an undesignated federal institution until he is 21.

A federal court jury found the elder Bearden guilty Oct. 18 of kidnapping, interstate transportation of a stolen airplane and obstruction of interstate commerce.

The lane, enroute from Los Angeles to Houston, Tex., was hijacked between Phoenix and El Paso. The Beardens said they intended to take the craft to Cuba and sell it.

The pilot told the Beardens he didn't have enough fuel to fly to Cuba and got permission to stop at El Paso. When Bearden ordered the pilot to take off from El Paso for Cuba, Border Patrol agents shot out the tires and one engine of the plane as it taxied toward the runway.

COLLEGE GRID WARS

Huskies, Trojans Seeking Breaker

SEATTLE (UPI) — University of Washington coach Jim Owens put his Huskies through tactical exercises today in preparation for their contest here Saturday with Southern California.

Both teams will be trying to break their season 3-3 records. Owens said he was pleased with Tuesday's pass offense and defense workout.

Ducks Face Indians

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) — The University of Oregon Ducks geared their strategy today for a rugged defensive game with the Stanford Indians at Palo Alto, Calif. this weekend.

Assistant coach Phil McHugh, who scouted the Indians last Saturday, briefed the Ducks on his findings Tuesday. Oregon coach Len Casanova then drilled his charges on offense and defense in an afternoon workout.

Bears, Bruins Clash

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — The fearless University of California Bears journey south this weekend to take on UCLA at the Coliseum. Coach Marv Levy said he expects a strong running attack from the Bruins and he concentrated the Bears' drills on overall defense. The Bears took a 28-0 drubbing from UCLA last year.

Indians Short Three

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — The Stanford Indians will be without the services of three key men here Saturday when they play Oregon.

Fullback Tony Delillis has a hip injury, tackle Al Hildebrandt is nursing a leg injury, and quarterback Steve Thurlow has mononucleosis. Indian coach Jack Curdick said Thurlow will be out for at least two weeks.

Quarter is Question

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Southern California coach John McKay continues his practice of not naming his starting quarterback until the day before the game—and his two quarterbacks continue to make it hard for him to choose.

Both Pete Beathard, who took over the starting position when regular first-string quarterback Bill Nelsen was injured, and the now almost healthy Nelsen, were on the team Tuesday in a Trojan passing drill. Beathard completed 9 of 17 passes in a heavy rush-the-passer drill and Nelsen hit for 10 of 16.

Aerials Stressed

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — To hear the report from the Bruin practice field you would think that UCLA has the finest collegiate passing attack in the nation. Then the Bruins get in a game—and if they're lucky—complete one or two.

It was that way again Tuesday. UCLA—the same UCLA that completed only one pass in its last two games—spent more than one hour on various passing drills and from reports looked great.

Senior Net Meet Starts On Friday

The Racquet Club's eighth annual Senior Tennis Tournament gets underway Friday with two divisions, senior singles and senior doubles, attracting entries from the Southern California area.

Play begins at noon on the opening day with Racquet Club professional Dave Gillam and the club's tennis hostess, Julie Cope-land in charge.

Entries from Los Angeles include John Murdoch, Judge Joseph Call, Jess Millman, Sam Norton, John Kriska, James Sato, George Goman, Cal Carey, Lester Deutsch, Will Duke, Somingo Magante, Dr. John Shelton, William Robertson, Joe Davis and Ed Yeomans.

The most distant entry comes from Al Kleinbaum of New York. Also playing in this tournament which is confined to tennis players 45 years and older are Robert Kelleher, Leonard Strauss, Paul Dibble and Lloyd Friedgen of Beverly Hills; Walter Ralphs of Rolling Hills; Alex Gottlieb of Hollywood; Jules Medoff of West Los Angeles; Martin Cornica of North Hollywood; Gus Kettmann of Palm Springs; Jack Frost of Cathedral City; Al Jablow of Palm Springs; and Marion Hawks of El Segundo.

Also William Lurie of Hawthorne, Les Wane of Vista, Al Fierman of San Pedro, Ben Neidman of Pomona, Judge Joseph Ciano of Redlands, Carl Busch of Downey, Charles McMillin of Santa Monica, George Preston of Encino, Lynn Moss from Redondo, John Sisson of San Marino, Jacob Marinsky of Culver City, Raymond Lyon from Downey, Verne Hughes of Long Beach, Jack Tidball from Van Nuys and Donald Grazier of Hermosa Beach.

In the 1960 Senior Tournament the singles winner was Bill Smith defeating Bill Lurie 6-0, 6-2. Doubles winners were John Sisson and Alan Harrington defeating Reed Hadley and B. Robertson 7-5, 6-4.

50 Is Tops At O'Donnell

Frank Bender, Earl Thompson, Sam Greenfield and Amos Bomberger teamed up to fire a best ball 50 for top place in the weekly Men's Choose Up at O'Donnell Golf Club Tuesday. In second place with a card of 53 were Barney Gengenbach, Harry Waldman, Chase Garfield and Budd Reininghaus.

Joe Gilpin, B. F. Shearer, E. W. Clark and Roy Maryatt were third with a best ball 55. Dr. John Lake, Jack Lynch, Norman Waters and Fred Nicholson scored a 57 and Jess Medaris, A. W. Lona-baugh, Arthur Muhs and Joseph Stedem carded 59.

Gal Golfers Tie In Opening Play At Thunderbird

Women golfers of Thunderbird Country Club launched the season with best ball foursome play with the Mmes. B. Dulaney, E. Ewing, Jim Wilson and Milt Hicks tied with the Mmes. M. Williams, D. Klemp, D. Royce and L. Manseau with low cards of 63.

Mrs. R. Clark, Mrs. Viola Morse, Mrs. Ben Shearer and Mrs. Roy Maryatt had a best ball card of 65 and Mrs. R. Stenzel, M. Braden, Mrs. M. Bremer and E. Thompson scored a 66.

BATTLE FOR FIRST

Indian-Coachella JV Game May Surprise

The Palm Springs High School Junior Varsity football team may find a surprise waiting for them when they take the home field tomorrow evening at 6 p.m.

After beating the Indio JV team and tying Hemet, Coach Cal Farley's squad had been led to believe the rest of the season would be strictly coasting.

But up pops Coachella Valley JV undefeated and unscored on in two Desert Valley League games. "They've been overlooked," said Coach Farley at this week's Boosters Club meeting. "It will be a real tough game."

Led by an all-star backfield star named Steve Price, Coach Walt Criner's Coachella team must be rated high in the DVL race. Only game they lost so far this season was a pick-up practice game with Indio JV when both were stuck for something to do and that score was only 6-0.

Mow Down Opponents

Otherwise, the Baby Arabs have mowed down the opposition including a 14-13 win over Hemet which the Indio JV team could only tie 7-7. Twenty-nine Palms fell before Coachella, 27-0, while Banning bowed, 25-0.

Fortunately, the Indians are in good shape for the game and get to play it on their own gridiron. That should make them a slight favorite, even though Price may ramble far and wide. Only reason that he is not on the varsity at Coachella, according to Farley, is that he is not yet 15, the minimum age for varsity play.

The 165-pounder will be facing the toughest defense he has all year in the Indio JV "Chinese Bandits" forward line. The likes of Doug Roberts, Dave Zappe, Dave Kennedy and others in the first line of defense has blanked all but two of their opponents and each of those could muster only one score.

After a 26-6 opening win in Perris, the JV's beat San Jacinto, 20-0, tied Hemet 7-7, beat Indio, 7-0, and smashed Twenty-nine Palms 32-0.

Spectators are invited to attend the game which will be played at the High School field. No admission is charged and the game gets underway at 6 p.m.

Meet An Indian

BRUCE HAMILTON, tackle, uniform No. 43, is another of the hoped-for future stars of the Palm Springs team. Only a sophomore and weighing 170, the youngster should really take charge of the center of the line in a year or two. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamilton of 1989 E. Amado Road, Palm Springs.

Golfing

With ALEX MORRISON

An otherwise good swing can be spoiled by turning the left hand upward in the backswing instead of keeping it in the proper plane.

SOME BACKSWING faults are easily recognized, others exist for years without being detected by the player. He can readily tell if he has failed to shift his weight properly or hold his head steady. Generally he isn't in the habit of properly following the movements of his arms and hands. When the extended left arm moves back it should go to the level of the right shoulder. This can be done consistently only after the proper training.

It is equally important to keep the back of the left hand in the plane of the left arm. This can be missed even with a good left arm position. A tendency is to turn the back of the hand upward and out of the plane. This makes the downswing relatively weak and inaccurate.

Many players yield to their emotions in the final stage of the backswing and thereby lose track of what they are doing, particularly with their hands.

THANKSGIVING CHARITY GAME FOR FOOTBALL FAMILIES

Over $200,000 Needed for Victims' Kin

By JOE ST. AMANT

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Volunteer contributions to a fund for dependents of 16 Cal Poly football players killed in a plane crash in Toledo, Ohio, total approximately $74,000 but much more needed.

Dr. Clyde Fisher, dean of the San Luis Obispo college said today about half of the $200,000 has been disbursed "on a basis of need" to the eight widows of players killed in the Oct. 2, 1960, crash and the 14 dependent children.

The fund is administered by the Cal Poly Student Memorial Fund Committee, which was set up last November.

The committee hopes to raise its largest harvest at the Mer Bowl football game at Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 23.

It is hoped that receipts from the game will total at least $200,000 to add to the money already contributed directly from sympathetic persons who read about the crash and sent unsolicited contributions.

Fisher said the committee hopes to build the fund to the point where four-year college scholarships can be set up for all the children involved in the tragedy. The committee has set certain "over-all need goals" totaling $250,000.

For example, $30,000 was the goal set for family living allowances.

"It looks like our goals are far too low," said Fisher. "The trouble with living allowances is that it's hard to tell when people will become self-sufficient."

Medical expenses for some of the surviving players are appalling.

Al Marnani, a tackle from San Francisco, suffered permanent disabling leg injuries and has a hospital and medical bill in the neighborhood of $28,000. He had planned a career as a pro football player.

Fullback Ray Porras, at 27 one of the oldest players on the squad was killed. His widow and four children must be taken care of. Porras went to college at a rather late age in the hope of becoming a football coach.

The Mercy Bowl game is the only large-scale hope for enduring financial stability. Bill Schroeder, director of the Helms Foundation which is assisting in promotion of the game, noted that it will be "a legitimate good football game."

Bowling Green of Ohio, undefeated this season, will play against the champion of the California Collegiate Athletic Assn., probably Fresno State, which also is unbeaten to date.

"At $3.00 a head," said Schroeder, "we need around 70,000 to reach our goal. At first I thought we would draw only 40,000 but now I know we will go far beyond that. We've got about $30,000 in the till already and tickets are going better all the time. This is a one-pitch affair . . . a last resort. We have to raise over $200,000."

When Is Sewage Usable Water?

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—When does sewage stop being sewage and become usable water? That's a question being asked today by hundreds of state and local officials. And the answer could provide a partial solution to California's water problem.

It already has been shown, for instance, that artichokes, and some other crops, may safely be irrigated with water reclaimed from sewage. And San Francisco has been filling decorative lakes in Golden Gate Park with reclaimed sewage water for years—with no public health hazard. "There's definitely a potential market for sewage water in California, especially in the southern part of the state," says Arthur J. Inerfield, state water resources senior engineer in charge of studying the vast field of water reclamation.

Cost & Question
The state isn't actively reclaiming sewage water. But it is keeping a close eye on various local projects to determine feasibility of reclaiming part of California's huge 1.3 billion gallons per day sewage output. As in most everything else, the cost factor is a main issue. And in this case it is relatively unknown.

"Generally speaking," says Inerfield, "water may be obtained cheaper from sewage than from other sources. But it all depends upon the amount of treatment required and how far the water is transported." Studies so far show a wide cost gap. "If reclaimed sewage water can

Bugs Bunny's Voice Files Suit Against LA City

SANTA MONICA (UPI)—Mel Blanc, the voice of "Bugs Bunny" and other movie cartoon characters, today filed suit for $500,000 damages against the City of Los Angeles because of a traffic accident which left him in critical condition for several days.

Blanc, 53, charged in his Superior Court suit that the city "negligently designed and constructed" the stretch of Sunset Boulevard where the accident occurred last Jan. 24. The stretch is known as "dead man's curve" and three persons have been killed and 15 injured in 26 accidents there during the past two years.

New Ford Aid

NEW YORK (UPI)—A new grants-in-aid program to talented musicians was announced Sunday by the Ford Foundation. Awards ranging from $2,500 to $10,000 each will go to choral directors, concert soloists and opera singers chosen by music experts throughout the United States.

Flaming Gorge Lake Start Set

By MURRAY M. MOLER

DUTCH JOHN, Utah (UPI) — Only sagebrush, scrub pine and grotesque juniper trees can be seen now along the banks of the Green River in the picturesque area where that stream pierces the Utah - Wyoming border. But before long, water skiers will be skimming over that same brush and picnicers will be enjoying the shelter of the trees. These people will be visitors to the Flaming Gorge Lake recreational area.

There's no Flaming Gorge Lake on the map yet. It will start taking shape late next year when gates are closed on a diversion tunnel and the water starts filling the gorge and valley behind Flaming Gorge Dam.

The dam is one of the key units of the billion dollar Upper Colorado River Basin development program. It is located five miles below the Utah - Wyoming state line, about half way between Green River, Wyo., and Vernal, Utah.

Half of the one million cubic yards of concrete needed to build the 500-foot high, 900-foot wide dam, costing nearly $30 million, will be in place late this fall. The remainder will be poured next year.

Combined Effort

Development of the intriguing recreational potential of the 91-mile-long reservoir already is under way through coordinated efforts of the Bureau of Reclamation, the Forest Service and National Parks Service.

A tour of the area with Carl E. (Corky) Johnson, project manager for the Park Service, and Andy R. McConkie, supervisor of Ashley National Forest, recently gave an insight into what tourists can expect to find around Flaming Gorge Lake in years to come.

The Park Service is working primarily on plans for recreation areas in the comparatively open, desert country northward from where the Green River enters the Uinta Mountains through fantastically rugged, red rock-walled Flaming Gorge.

The Forest Service is developing camp, picnic, boat ramp and scenic "overlook" sites in the 27-miles of cliff-narrowed lake area from the gorge to the dam itself.

Whether the two services will operate the sites as two units, or whether the Park Service will manage all under a national recreational area plan remains to be settled by the Secretaries of Interior and Agriculture.

Move Ahead

McConkie and Johnson aren't waiting for this decision. McConkie's Forest Service crews and contractors already have installed facilities at seven sites, with six more programmed for next year. A total of 66 camp grounds, 15 scenic overlooks, 4 boat docks and about 50 miles of vital access roads will be set up by the foresters.

Johnson has maps and plans drawn for two major recreational facilities and five "minor sites" that will be developed as funds become available.

The largest Park Service camp will be called Lucerne Valley. Johnson hopes to have it completed in 1962, "before the water comes up." It will be located on the west bank of the reservoir, a few hundred yards south of the state line.

The other major Park Service facility will be on Antelope Flat, across the lake from Lucerne Valley. It affords a particularly striking view of Flaming Gorge.

When completed, the various units will have a daily capacity of nearly 15,000 visitors, with room for expansion if the demand is great.

McConkie predicted that by the year 2,000, at least 600 million individual visits will be made to America's 154 National Forests each year, six times the 1961 total.

TO TELL THE TRUTH

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII Tuesday night told the Rome Foreign Press Association that a journalist's job was to tell the truth as a means of "working for the human brotherhood."

The Pontiff made the remark in a French-language speech to a private audience of journalists from 39 countries, including the Soviet Union, Poland and Yugoslavia.

"In working for truth," Pope John said, "You are working for the human brotherhood. For it is errors and lies which divide men. Truth links them together."

Radioactive Debris in Aleutians by Thursday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Small amounts of radioactive debris from Russia's 50-megaton bomb will reach the Aleutians and possibly Western Alaska Thursday evening, a Weather Bureau scientist said today.

Robert List, head of a bureau's atmospheric radioactivity research project, said the nuclear dust cloud might pass north of the U.S. mainland, however. The cloud, containing about 1 or 2 per cent of the blast's fallout, will reach Europe in about a week.

List said about 3 per cent of this initial fallout would sift to earth in a 50-mile wide corridor stretching 1,000 miles across Soviet Siberia.

The remaining 95 per cent of the bomb's fallout was blown high into the stratosphere. It will be washed to earth by next spring's rains in the United States and the rest of the Northern Hemisphere.

The Public Health Service has said there was no immediate danger from the strontium-90 and other radioactive particles.

Water Hearing Set Thursday

The Public Utilities Commission has called a meeting for Thursday at 10:30 a.m. in the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce board room for hearing of an application by the Smythe Water Company.

The application covers operation of a water system three miles east of North Palm Springs in Circle B Ranch.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy will open the national Christmas seal campaign at a White House ceremony on Nov. 8.

Hearing Scheduled on Biltmore Rezoning

A public city council hearing on the protested Biltmore hotel rezoning was set for Nov. 27, after the council decided Monday that the Nov. 13 agenda was too full for the controversial hearing.

Councilman Ted McKinney told the council that the Biltmore "is in no hurry" for the zoning, and recommended that the Nov. 27 date be set. The matter had been tentatively set for Nov. 13.

George W. Mitzner and D. L. Stachler, officers of the protesting committee of homeowners in the Biltmore and Deepwell areas within 400 feet of the hotel, attended the meeting as observers. Neither made any statements as the council set the hearing date.

City Manager Dan Wagner reported Tuesday that "baskets" of protesting letters have been received in city hall. The city planning commission had recommended R-2 and R-3 rezoning for the guest ranch portions of the Biltmore grounds. The adjacent property owners seek an R-1, single family resident, buffer zone.

2nd Shipment of U.S. Airplanes For Yugoslavia

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—A second shipment of surplus U.S. airplanes from San Diego to Communist Yugoslavia is planned next month.

William Mockler, public relations director for the Port of San Diego, confirmed Monday that the shipment is scheduled for the middle of next month. He said he did not know how many airplanes would be included in the shipment.

Four surplus Navy jet training planes were shipped to Yugoslavia from San Diego last week after a series of protest demonstrations by a group called "the Committee to protest Jets to Communist Tito."

Committee Chairman Richard H. Meleney said the group would be reactivated to protest the new shipment.

thaniel Crosby, but what about a middle name?

Mrs. Crosby, former actress Cathy Grant, says the boy's name is Nathaniel Michael Crosby. Hospital officials said that's the name he's going by here.

But in London, Bing says as far as he is concerned the child's name is Nathaniel Patrick Crosby.

Crosby's publicity aide, Jean Garioch, said Bing had talked to his wife by telephone Monday and apparently straightened the matter out. If that was the case, there is little evidence to support it.

Bing who is in London to film "Road to Hong Kong," is still sticking with Patrick as a middle name. Kathy hasn't backed down on her announcement that her son, born Sunday, is named Nathaniel Michael Crosby.

Miss Garioch indicated, however, that Crosby, who has five other sons, might be willing to compromise.

"I think they are two very nice names," she quoted the singer as saying.

BALL CHAIRMAN Mrs. Adrian Schwilck, standing, is shown with two of her friends, Mrs. Frank Gaudiello and Mrs. Peggy Doman, who will be attending the Childrens Home Society-

Noted Artist To Show at 29 Palms

Paintings by Marjorie Ransom Cummins, noted southland artist, will be shown at the Twenty-nine Palms Art Gallery Nov. 2-20. The exhibit of oils and water colors includes landscapes, florals, portraits and marinescapes.

Marjorie Cummins, daughter of a pioneer California family, was born in Los Angeles. She began her study of art at an early age and by the time she was fourteen she was painting murals for a Los Angeles firm. Later she attended the Chicago Art Institute where she studied all phases of painting. In 1928 she moved to the desert and immediately fell in love with its many moods.

Mrs. Cummins now lives in Yucaipa where in addition to her painting she conducts an art school.

A painting demonstration will be given by Mrs. Cummins Saturday, Nov. 4, 8 p.m. at the Twenty-nine Palms Art Gallery, 7393 Cottonwood Drive, to which the public is invited. A donation will be asked of non-members.

It's Hats ... on Minds and on Heads

Hundreds Ready Hats for Fun, Beauty and Charity

Hats, now on the minds of Palm Springs-minded women, will move up to their heads and into the spotlight on Saturday, when the Palm Springs Pathfinders stage their Hat Parade Luncheon.

Next Saturday, Nov. 4, at noon, hatted women will converge on Chi Chi Starlite Room to compete for one of the most fabulous arrays of prizes ever offered at this popular annual event.

According to the Hat Parade's co-chairmen Mrs. William D. Malouf and Mrs. William Crawford, ticket sales were at the half way mark at the beginning of the week, and may still be secured from Pathfinders' ticket chairman Mrs. S. P. Manasse, Mrs. Earl Henderson, Mrs. George Wheeler or Mrs. Walter Brunmark, or downtown at Janies' hat shop on the Desert Inn grounds.

Those planning to attend are again reminded that table reservations must be made by telephoning Maitre d' Charlie Nasko at Chi Chi Starlite Room, not later than tomorrow. There will be tickets on sale at the door for any no host tables still available on Saturday, but it is expected that the luncheon affair will be a complete sell-out.

Sweepstakes for the best hat in the show will be a sable stole, and the prize for the most spectacular hat will be a mink stole, both gifts of an anonymous donor; while a mink-trimmed sweater from Palm Springs Furs will go to the best Palm Springs hat. The week at Golden Door will be won by the most beautiful hat, and the zaniest of all the hats will win the stay for two at the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas. A birthday or anniversary dinner for 10, with champagne and chateaubriand on the menu, will be given by the Ranch Club to the best around-the-world hat. To the best decorated men's hat will go a series of six treatments at Palm Springs Spa.

Mrs. George O. Wheeler, who is heading up the Commercial entries has listed Robinsons Palm Springs, Palm Springs Riviera, Larry Foy, Cliff and Lou Sawyer, Waltham Clarke, Helen Fenton, Nellie's, Ira Nickerson Advertising Agency, Gladys' Racquet Club Shop, El Rey Resort of Searchlight, Nevada.

Three trophies will be presented to the best three commercial entries, which do not compete for Sweepstakes prize.

A Bill Alexander - Billy Allen-Tony Rose - Wally Harpst combo will play for the parade, being probably the first all orchestra leader combo to appear on Chi Chi's stage, with another great orchestra leader Eddie LeBaron acting as emcee.

Singing the Hat Song will be that handsome young baritone, who is making a name for himself in Hollywood these days, Lionel Ames, and two talented teenagers, Frances Romero and Jeff Isenagie will do the Mexican Hat Dance, as show openers. The Hat Parade itself, with all its color and imaginative daring will be the feature attraction as lines of hatted women parade before a set of distinguished judges, three of Los Angeles' leading columnists and society writers, Cobina Wright, Christy Fox and Lynn Spencer (Cholly Angeleno). The parade will be directed by Joan McManus, as in previous years.

Among honor guests at the judges' and press table, which will be hosted by co-chairman Hildy Crawford, will be Mrs. Frank Bennett, originator of the Palm Springs hat, Mrs. Lynn Spencer, Mrs. Eddie LeBaron, Mrs. Laurena Heple, Edna Rothbart, George Shaw, Millie Iverson, Marj Pohl, Gloria Greer, and Mrs. Crawford's two guests, Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mrs. Hugh Carson of Lido Isle.

Founders' Auxiliary Finds Members Willing Helpers

"Ask and it shall be given unto you" seemed to be the theme of the meeting of the Founders' Auxiliary of Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation held in Desert Hot Springs.

Of the 20 new members welcomed into the organization since the beginning of the season, many have offered their services to help further the cause of the Auxiliary. One such member was Mrs. Joseph (Ruth) Lowenthal who accepted the chairmanship of the organization.

During the meeting, it was brought to the attention of the members that Mrs. Anne E. Douglas, whose home is a unique attraction for all who visit it, has contributed through collections in her Angel Bank a total of $200. Located at 66-094 West 4th Street, Desert Hot Springs, Mrs. Douglas' home is affectionately known as "The Anne Douglas Museum," and she encourages all who come to browse to contribute to the Angel Bank in memory of her late husband, D. J. Douglas.

Highlight of the meeting was when the membership voted unanimously to contribute a check for $2,500 from their treasury to the Foundation.

In addition to the financial need of the Foundation, there is also need of help in the A. Wardman in-patient wing.

Anyone who has had a course in Red Cross Nurse's Aide training will be of invaluable assistance to the resident nurse.

Entertainment for the patients during the long week-ends would be appreciated and of great psychological value.

Completion of plans for the Rummage Sale to be held from Wednesday through Saturday, November 8, 9, 10 and 11, were made. The doors will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Mrs. Kathleen Harris is chairman of the affair and extended an invitation to all to help make this annual event a success.

Mrs. C. J. (Martha) Wallace made a presentation of a rosewood gavel to the President, Mrs. J. G. (Berdine) Pack. Donated by Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Kibbey, the sterling silver plate is inscribed "Founders' Auxiliary Angel View."

Mrs. Pack accepted the gavel with the promise that she would use it wisely in conducting the business of the Auxiliary.

Ed Swift Will Give Talk to Insurance Women

Ed Swift of the General Adjustment Bureau will address the Insurance Women of Palm Springs and Coachella Valley, when they hold their monthly meeting in the Security Bank on Ramon Road at 7:30 p.m., tomorrow.

Swift will deliver his speech on the subject of "Claims," at 8:30 p.m.

All women affiliated with insurance agents or insurance departments of banks or loan companies are cordially invited to attend, and are eligible for membership.

Avoid spills by placing a strip of adhesive tape around the top of your child's drinking glass. It will give him a good grip.

P.S. Woman's Club Holds Pearl McManus Day

Paying tribute to the First Lady of Palm Springs, the Woman's Club honored Mrs. Austin McManus, by designating the club's first fall meeting as "Pearl McManus Day." Club President Mrs. Irwin Wright added a floral tribute of two dozen long-stemmed red roses, as she thanked Mrs. McManus on behalf of the club, for her generosity and consideration throughout the years.

Obviously deeply touched at the tribute, Mrs. McManus said "I can only say what is in my heart. I am so overwhelmed, and so devoted to this club, that this tribute goes very deep, and is definitely a highlight in a long, long life." As she acknowledged the tribute paid her, she reviewed the history of the club, from its founding 28 years ago, at which time she presented the property on which the clubhouse stands. She placed only one restriction on her gift, stipulating that money be raised and the clubhouse building started within a certain time limit. In four weeks time this was done, the money was raised by an enthusiastic committee and construction started on the clubhouse which stands at 314 S. Cahulla.

Speaking in the sincere and dignified fashion that is so much a part of her personality, Mrs. McManus gave a sparkling account of early day Palm Springs, recounting how both the village and the club grew by leaps and bounds to the cultural and philanthropic center it is today. As she concluded her short speech, Mrs. McManus received a standing ovation from the clubwomen, who overflowed the auditorium.

Mrs. George O. Wheeler, past president of the club, who acted as liaison between Mrs. McManus and the club, at the time the club's benefactress presented it with a $3000 check, introduced Mrs. McManus.

The following new members were welcomed to the club by the president, and each presented with a corsage: Mmes. Elsie Addes, Arthur T. Bailey, R. R. Buttane, W. Gail Cave, Jack Copass, Robert Shaw Doman, C. Ronald Ellis, Harry E. Engelund, George M. Figart, Al Gardiner, Howard L. Hayes, Hardin M. Hart Jr., Paul P. Jones, Robert Kempe, Joseph B. Lamb, Emery A. Lenning, Nora L. Lockwood, Don McPherson, Walter A. Melrose, Sumner B. More, Sherrill Parsons, Bud Reinighaus, Roy N. Roberts, Howard Roth, Beula M. Schlusmeyer, John Shamel, Ralph J. Thompson, Sr., Sally Yocum and Misses Isobel Cooper and Joyce Chapman.

Following the above ceremony, program chairman, Mrs. Howard

Matthews introduced Jane Ardmore, author of many books and magazine articles, who spoke on "Women, This is your Life."

Acting as hostesses were the members of the entire executive board, who also assisted at the tea table, following the stage program. President Mrs. Wright was assisted by the following members of the board: Mesdames Marvin D. Cartwright, Louis Lombard, George O. Wheeler, George Chandler, Howard Matthews, Jerome H. Dreier, Charles D. Greason, Cornelius Maffie, Vera Farrell, Charlotte Goodwin, Miss Hazel Gross, and June Jungmeyer.

of the day, and her committee had charge of the refreshment table. Those on the committee were Mmes. Herbert Burns, L. H. Edgerton, J. Forkner, C. D. Mahannah, Ben Read. In charge of decoration were: Mrs. Glenn B. Watson, and Mrs. Thomas Holland.

More coverage is the newest direction in swimwear? Women's Wear Daily reports necklines on the rise. Even backs are getting higher. Shoulder straps are wide and sleeve effects still limited, are a trend to be watched.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

Invitations are in the mail this week for a preview showing of color photography at the Anderson Studio on Friday evening.

The cocktail party is being hosted by Dorothy and Bill Anderson and will allow their guests to view an outstanding collection of color portraits and scenes using a new color processing procedure.

In addition to photographs by Anderson the Southern California Professional Photographers Association loan collection will also be on display. These include merit-winning award prints selected for exhibition throughout the southland.

Among the color portraits are many Palm Springs personalities, and there is one that was taken at the same time as the photo that usually heads this column. It is in tones of Hildy blue and because of the Palm Springs hat is really a personality portrait that is typical of Bill's interesting color work.

The news spread to Athens, Greece, before it got around town that a baby girl, weighing eight pounds four ounces, was born Friday at Desert Hospital to Andres and Mort Ulman.

The infant, who is their first child, is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Van Antwerp of Athens, where he represents Sabena Air Lines. Andree, who was born in Brussels, Belgium, has been studying for her American citizenship papers and expects to take the examinations in a month or so.

The little new Mis Ulman has been named Cynthia Alice, and she and her mother are now at home at 665 Paseo del Anza.

Helen and James Abernathy are back in their Palm Springs home and are enjoying the sunshine after the snow at Mt. Lassen, where they have been at the Hunting and Fishing Club. There was snow and when the thermometer dropped to 18 degrees, they headed for the desert fast. Jim and Helen spent most of the summer in La Jolla.

Ray Shelby, who was snowed in in Wyoming, where he went on a business trip, finally made it out of there as far as Tahoe and expects to be in Palm Springs tomorrow, to join his bride, who preceded him here to open their Crestview Drive home.

A Paris gown, an original and authentic relic of the 1920s, was worn by Countess Viola Lukawiecki at the Roaring Twenties party at El Mirador's Cabana Circle, which was part of the weekend festivities for the Regional Conference that brought over 600 Soropimists to Palm Springs. The black net gown is embellished all over with black bugle beads, featuring a scalloped edge of 30 rows of jet beads. It was a gift from her uncle Captain James Early Snow, USMC, who brought the gown from Shanghai, when he returned from duty there. The beautiful gown is still in perfect condition after 35 years and has been worn many times as a costume in various countries, traveling back and forth to Europe many times.

Everyplace you go the conversation keeps turning to hats, with the big Pathfinders' Hat Parade Luncheon coming up this Saturday at Chi Chi. Most fascinating item to date is that Riviera Hotel entry in the Commercial Division is being designed by an architect in Los Angeles.

Witches Appear
On Patio During
Halloween Party

Witches and goblins made a preview appearance on the patio of Terri Lee Short's Cahulla Road home, when she hosted a Halloween Party for her Palm Valley School classmates.

Guests joined in spooky games and bobbed for apples in an area that seemed haunted by black cats and skeletons.

Dressed as a hobo, Tony Korody received a prize for the best boy's costume, and Pam Redfern, dressed as a Gypsy, was voted best-costumed girl.

Fifth grade students present were Tony Korody, Roy Dolley, Steven Gibbons, Pam Redfern, Debra Livingston and Jennifer Call.

Church Bazaar Is Announced

Saturday, Nov. 4 was announced as the date of the annual church bazaar, rummage sale and dinner of the Thousand Palms Community Church, to be held at the Church on Sierra Del Sol Street. The bazaar and rummage sale, to include a "home-baked" foods sale, is to start at 4 p.m., with the Turkey Dinner to be served from 6 to 8 p.m.

These announcements and further planning for this annual event in the life of the local church comprised the greater part of the first meeting of the fall season of the Friendship Circle of Thousand Palms Community Church, which met at the Church last week for a luncheon meeting. Hostesses for the luncheon were Mesdames Dan Claassen and Dewey D. Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace L. Gillum have returned to their home in New York City following a three-week visit with Mr. Gillum's mother, Mrs. Grace Gillum, in her Thousand Palms home. It was a real family reunion, for Mrs. Gillum's daughter, Mrs. R. J. LaJoie of Los Angeles, spent much of the three weeks with her mother, brother and sister-in-law. They were joined for a weekend by the other son, and brother, and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Gillum and youngsters, Sharon and Rol, of Glendale.

—Elizabeth Nelson

WELL COVERED, a peace demonstrator is carried away from in front of the Soviet U. N. delegation building by New York City police. The demonstrators refused to move when police ordered them away and a number had to be carried to a corner opposite the Russian headquarters. They were protesting the 50-megaton blast. The demonstration came while the Soviet delegation was non-committal about the big blast at Novaya Zemlya on Monday. Its members would not comment even on New Zealand's suggestion that the explosion accidentally got out of hand.

Yesterday's Children Have a Craving for Tar

By CLAIRE COX
NEW YORK (UPI)—The ice cream vendor and popcorn machine stir cravings for treats among today's youngsters. But their parents often hanker for their favorite childhood snack when they come upon a street repair crew at work.

All over the country, from Fresno to Maryland and Buffalo to Blytheville, Ark. yesterday's children enjoyed the chewy, aromatic, absolutely non-digestible substance that was used to mend cracks and plug potholes in traffic arteries.

Tar. That's right. Not bubble gum at a penny a chew, but tar—as free as the air breathed by the resourceful youngsters of yesterday.

There cannot be many who either have not tried the delicacy or been tempted to. The tar chewers were members of an elite society that also knew the joys of sucking on splinters of ice generously chopped off a huge cake in the rear of the ice truck that called daily before the era of the electric refrigerator and the deep freeze.

An entire neighborhood of children could detect the arrival of the tar pot almost as soon as it was fired up. Youngsters would stand hungrily by watching the men mend cracks and wondering if they would ever leave. Then the moment the road gang moved on, the greedy hands went to work, snatching gobs of tar in a frantic race for a good chew before the patch was flattened and dirtied by an oncoming car.

Some youngsters were too fastidious even to chew black stuff removed from the pavement so soon after pouring that it still was warm and only a little bit dusty. These finicky ones usually chopped bite-size chunks off cakes of tar before the repairmen had a chance to dump them in the melting pot.

Of course, there were those who simply did not like the taste of tar. They had other goodies to nibble on, such as aromatic weeds they called Lady's Cheiving tobacco, or libations concocted with varying quantities of water and dirt—in other words—mud.

A suburban New York wife and mother who otherwise has managed to exist on a reasonably normal, nutritious, vitamin-packed diet admits that in the days when her husband was chomping on tar in Maryland she was enjoying her own favorite between meals fare.

She nibbled on paper bags. But not just any paper bags. She only liked brown paper.

Quadros Departs

LONDON (UPI)—Former President Janio Quadros of Brazil and his family have left their hotel in London.

Quadros has attempted to keep his movements quiet since he arrived here a month ago after resigning the presidency. A hotel spokesman said he may be on his way to Australia.

High Income Families
Show Unbridled Enthusiasm for Newspapers

Nearly everyone in town reads a daily newspaper. Among the heaviest readers, according to a survey by the Psychological Corporation, are upper social-economic urban families. Another study by the U.S. Department of Agriculture found middle and high income groups were heavier newspaper readers than low income groups. This survey showed 73% of the low income group said they had read the newspaper, while the score increased to 88% for middle income groups and 95% for high income groups. No matter what service or product you sell, no matter what income group you want to reach, you reach more people through the daily newspaper.

We'll Get Hand-Me-Down Information

When Gov. Brown went into office he assured the public that their right to know would be respected by his administration. He issued a forthright statement that governmental processes would be an open book.

"Secrecy in government is as much to be feared as subversion," he said.

A month ago, Gov. Brown announced that he planned an eight-man cabinet to serve as a policy-making body for the executive branch of the state government. The cabinet was to be composed of the four administrators of the newly formed super-agencies and other top members of his administration.

He succeeded in getting four administrators at $25,000 each annually and announced the formation of his cabinet.

Came the time for the cabinet to meet—and Gov. Brown said the meeting was to be closed. Even members of the press were denied admittance. The meeting was strictly secret, a flip-flop from his open-face government policy announced earlier.

However, even though the meeting was closed, the governor desired the publicity which would accrue. He told the press:

"The meeting will be closed but the governor, no doubt, will be available for comment after the meeting."

The interpretation is that the governor is anxious to further his political ambitions throughout the state and at the same time deny the taxpayers who are picking up the $100,000 tab for the four members of his cabinet, the right to know what they are doing to earn their money.

The governor's council was organized back in the administration of the late C. C. Young and its meetings were open to the press, providing, at times, useful information for the public.

But with the new cabinet, superseding the council, with much more money being spent, Gov. Brown apparently has decided that the interest of the public in governmental affairs is no longer a matter of concern and that decisions involving millions of dollars in tax money are to be kept secret except for what he chooses to announce when he, "no doubt, will be available for comment after the meeting" as it was said earlier.

When the state executive signed the bills introduced by former assemblyman, Ralph M. Brown, against secrecy in government and passed by the legislature, he intimated that the bill was aimed at local government, not at a state level.

The governor is willing, he said, to provide information concerning actions of the cabinet. But that will be second hand information about the affairs of the state, with too much chance for distortion of facts, painting the bright side of the picture, suppressing the drab.

Too Often They Ignore What They Know

In most schools, if you achieve a mark of 80 per cent correct in a test, you rate a B-minus. But, if you'll pardon the attempt at a pun, if you fail to make 80 per cent in a drivers' license test, you'd be minus a license.

Every driver must take that test at least once every four years, in some cases, every two years. And you must be well up in your knowledge of the California Motor Vehicle Code. Because you can be clapped into jail if you are caught driving without a license or one that has been expired for more than 90 days.

The examiner throws a list of 30 questions at you. You must answer at least 24 of them correctly or you are told, no dice, go away and come back some later day to try again.

You get three chances at every question and it's like going into a polling booth, all you do is mark an X in the proper square. Not only are you required to know what's what in the code but you also have to have a working knowledge of what constitutes safe and sane driving.

It's a test for motorists but it includes pedestrians, too. That's in case, no doubt, that you flunk and are returned to the ranks of the foot plodders. It's a continuing program for every two years the legislators tinker with the motor vehicle code and the answer that was right this year may be out of line in 1963.

The 30 questions, each with a choice of three answers, cover about everything involved in safe driving. The oddity revealed is that the vast majority of those who take it, pass when confronted by the examiner. There they know all of the laws. But, watching them afterwards, on the highways, apparently most of them left their knowledge of the code in the test room.

You never discover how patient you can be until the fellow who is arguing with you happens to be twice your size . . . O. A. Battista.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

'Say It Isn't So, Mr. President'

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "Well, we've got to get used to the fact that the United States is a second-class power. Why can't we accept it? England has!"

These words, precisely as this reporter heard them in a discussion of the Soviet super bomb, bespeak a familiar fatalism of our day. The fatalism is given a shameful credibility by our reaction to the megatonnage of the Russian weapons. This idea of accepting American inferiority is going to haunt the Kennedy Administration for the rest of its days.

Either the President must acknowledge the inferiority and agree to "live with Communism," as so many intellectuals have advised—or else the President must put the full force of his mind and personality to the paramount task of proving that it isn't so.

In order to restore or reassert American primacy, the President must unavoidably address himself to the Soviet nuclear explosion. This is not to say that he now has an excuse to do nothing about Germany, Cuba, the budget, the crime syndicates, the relief rackets and all the rest. But the Soviet fusillade is the one thing he cannot any longer ignore, pass on to the United Nations, wring his hands over, or refer to a committee for study. There is reason for believing that these Arctic shots are a new form of artillery aimed at the USA, as well as at Japan and West Europe, our major allies. We are told that the fallout to date is nothing to be alarmed about. But Khrushchev is the one who decides how long the salvo of shots will continue, when it will resume if he should discontinue for a spell, what megatonnage the explosions will measure and how "dirty" the fallout will be.

Three Degrees of Dirt
The "dirtiness" of the fallout was controllable as long ago as 1958, the year that President Eisenhower began three-year voluntary test ban by our side which lasted into the Kennedy Administration. The American public has not been told what amount of "dirtiness" is scientifically possible by today, the end of 1961. But I have here three definitions which were given out by authoritative sources in 1958.

(1) A normal weapon: This is a bomb to achieve, at an economical weight and size, the desired amount of blast and thermal effect.

(2) A clean weapon: A bomb so designed as to minimize or greatly reduce the radioactivity of the debris. This means that the clean bomb is designed by its makers to hold down the ratio of fission (atomic) yield to fusion (nuclear) yield. In his press conference of July 3, 1957, President Eisenhower said his Atomic Energy Chairman Lewis Strauss had reported to him that our bombs were close to 95 per cent "clean." That is to say, our bombs were 95 per cent fusion and 5 per cent fission.

(3) A salted weapon: That is a bomb which is so designed that a significant portion of the radioactivity ("dirtiness") of the debris has been achieved by the "deliberate" introduction of selected isotopes. In short, this bomb has been "salted" with materials which are not needed to achieve an explosion. The "salt" has been introduced to cause radioactive debris with fearful biochemical effects.

1958 Definitions
These, to repeat, are 1958 definitions. Considering the rapid development of science, we must assume that by 1961 the Soviet weapons makers have refined their knowledge and sharpened their skills. It is impossible to suppose that when "dirtier" bombs are made, Khrushchev will make them. Nor is it beyond scientific supposition that Russian scientists can time their shots and can concoct fallout which will principally drop upon the Western Hemisphere.

These are some of the reasons why we are going to hear more of a new idea — "acceptance," meaning acceptance of our lot as a nation which no longer rules its destiny. We shall soon be learning by the President's actions (not by his words) how he's going to treat this idea.

To reject it, he will have to rise above all past performances and give us deeds of surpassing audacity and imagination, not excluding a direct attack upon the Arctic region where the tests are taking place.

But if the President submits to the idea that, after all, great nations rise and wane, and that America has had her day, then he will not have to tell us so, or show us so. We will know.

"THINK WE'LL HAVE TO TACKLE IT?"

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Dear Abby . . .

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me exactly what you would do if you were in my place. Here is my problem:

I can't get up enough nerve to ask my tenants to pay me the eight months' back rent they owe from 1958. They are both working people with good jobs, and have no children. They are really wonderful people, and have been with me almost ten years. How can I approach them with this embarrassing subject without hurting their feelings? —LAND-LADY

DEAR LADY: Is your property on earth? You sound like a landlady who is out of this world. Ask them, with a smile, for the back rent. If they don't pay, substitute a written statement for the smile. Business is business.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have a darling baby girl, age 3. Eight months ago I went back to work to help pay off the car and our house and a few other things, and my mother offered to care for my child during the day. At first I felt quite lucky, because I knew my child would get the love and attention she was used to. Since then I have changed my mind. My mother has taken over completely, and I have nothing to say about my child's welfare. Before I went back to work the baby would sleep and eat on schedule, and never cause me any trouble. Now she is spoiled rotten, and does exactly as she pleases. I asked my mother please to follow my old schedule, and she told me if I didn't like the way she took care of my baby I should quit work and take care of her myself. Can you advise me? —WORKING MOTHER

DEAR WORKING: Your mother's advice is good. Take it!

DEAR ABBY: Another lady and I recently spent a week in a very fine hotel. Every morning a young woman came into the hotel dining room for breakfast with her husband and two sons. She was wearing a muu muu. (One of those shapeless sacks.) Is this proper attire for breakfast in a lovely hotel dining room? —VACATIONER

P.S. The lady was "not" "expecting."

DEAR VACATIONER: If the lady appeared in her muu muu day after day, she apparently was properly attired insofar as the hotel management was concerned, or they would have suggested she change.

P.S. How do "you" know?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Living For Today": Someone once said (and I don't know who), "Willful waste makes woe of want," and you may live to say, "Oh, how I wish I had the bread that once I threw away."

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

BOB CONSIDINE:

Something Appalling About Fallout Shelters in Land

NEW YORK — It is true that man has at times dug himself a hole, hid behind a barricade, climbed into a suit of armor and even camouflaged himself to avoid the thrusts of his enemy. Still, there is something appalling about the fallout shelters now sprouting in the land. They seem to me to typify resignation instead of a determination to survive in a tense time.

Are we becoming a nation of chickens? Or, worse, a nation of moles? We know of no such concentration — individually or on the government level — in the Soviet Union. Our allies, whose lands and cities lie so close to the U.S.S.R. that they could be blitzed in 10 or 15 minutes, are not making nearly as much commotion about bomb and fallout warrens as we, who are so much farther removed from the source of the danger and so much better prepared to answer blow with blow.

One Builds
"I agree with you that it would be nice if the country put all that time, effort and money into making ourselves so strong that no enemy would dare hit us," a prominent former official in the Truman administration told me last night. "Nevertheless, I'm building the biggest and best shelter I can construct." He found it hard to say, "Not for myself," he added, quickly. "I've got three little grandchildren living down the street from me. I'm thinking of them. Please don't tell anybody that I'm doing it."

It was, I think, typical of a widespread humiliation over fallout construction. The builders find themselves torn between the obligation of protecting their families and themselves against the unknowns of atomic warfare but, at the same time, they don't want to appear timid or cowardly — and I'd bet most of them do.

This country needs the encouragement of a strong voice saying, "Those Russians aren't going to make me crawl into a hole." It needs it more, it seems to me, than pictures of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller disappearing, with a smile, into the commodious subterranean vault he built for himself several years ago.

Not Neighbors
Though neither said it aloud, one must judge that neither my friend who is thinking of his grandchildren, nor Gov. Rockefeller, has any intention of inviting the neighbors to join them when the shelters are ever needed. If such a dire time arrived the keepers of the underground hives could in good conscience mow down any man, woman or child who tried to force his way in out of the radioactive dust.

At least, that's the strange contention of the Rev. Laurence C. McHugh, S.J., of America Magazine, as propounded in his recent shocker entitled "Ethics at the Shelter Doorway." The piece has been damned and praised, but none of its critics know quite how he would react if ever faced with such a heart-breaking decision.

To the Beach
One critic of McHugh's Law proposed — on the fatal day — to take his family to the beach and enjoy himself along the sands until the end came, while shelter owners were driving off pleading friends and relatives with machinegun fire. He sounds like a braver man than some who would necessarily survive. Since I read Dr. McHugh's piece I've been wondering if he knows, in his heart of hearts, what he would do in a pinch.

Fragile at Best
The do-it-yourself shelters now ruining vegetable gardens and the cellar's game room cannot be made to withstand much in the way of a blow, or sustain the hibernating for very long. At a U. S. missile base recently I saw two 400-ton steel and reinforced concrete doors open over a 14-story deep silo containing a Titan. When the Titan had flown off I asked if the fantastically sturdy doors would have protected it from a hit by an A-bomb. The answer was a snorting, "Of course not!"

The community shelter plan smacks of inadequacy, too. The city of Newburgh, N. Y., informs us that it hopes to build a mostly underground garage and shelter to fit either 256 vehicles or 7,000 citizens. Its blurb reads:

The Blurb
"The plans were so formulated that in the event of an emergency, the underground areas could be cleared of automobiles in less than 50 minutes . . ." It would take a Soviet ICBM only 25 minutes to fly from its base and hit Newburgh. Well, back to that little old drawing board . . .

Khrushchev sits in his Kremlin knowing that night and day the great bombers of the Strategic Air Command circle his land, ready to knock him out if he raises a pinkie in anger. He knows that NATO, close at hand, could hit with tremendous speed and vigor, too. He has a good line on how his coastal areas are policed by Polar subs. He knows that American-built Thor and Jupiter IRBMs based in Britain and Italy in a few minutes can reach the ionion-shaped towers of his capital. He has every reason to believe that his satellite peoples would defect by the millions, if he went to war.

And then he relaxes and proudly smiles. He sees the American people pay him the historic compliment of boring into the earth in doubt and fear.

NOVEMBER 1, 1951
The Rev. Robert M. Hogarth, resigned as rector of St. Paul's in the Desert. He was highly praised by the Rt. Rev. Eric Bloy, bishop of Los Angeles, for his success in building up the parish in his ten years of service.

Paintings by desert artists featured the Desert Inn Art Gallery, in charge of Harriet Day, in observance of National Art Week.

NOVEMBER 1, 1941
Dick Taylor, city recreation director, presented to City Manager John Lange a comprehensive program for the Field Club if it is purchased by the city.

NOVEMBER 1, 1931
A six-piece band provided music for the Firemen's Ball at the school auditorium. Proceeds went for purchase of needed equipment for the department.
